

Martin Luther King, Jr. was born on January 15, 1929 in Atlanta, Georgia. His father was Martin Luther King, Sr. and his mother was Alberta Williams King. He had one older sister, and one younger brother.

Here is a picture of me with my family:

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. grew up and had a dream that all children would be able to play with other, even if they are different.
I have a dream, too. This is my dream:

When Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was a little boy, he sang in the choir at church. He also enjoyed playing football, baseball and riding his bike.
This is what I like to do for fun:
